Businesslike Session Held Last Night.

COMMUNICATIONS ARE RECEIVED

A Session Bristling with Business Transactions—Invitation to Participate in Memorial Day Exercises from G. A. R. Many Other Matters Given Attention.

The board of education convened in regular session last night with all the members present except President McGraw, who failed to make an appearance. On motion Mr. Vodrey was made president pro tem of the meeting, and acted in this capacity throughout the entire evening. The minutes of the previous session were read, and after a suggestion that the names of the sureties on the secretary's bond be recorded on them was agreed upon, the minutes were accepted. The report of the committees appointed to investigate the bills of the Unionist and that from Snowden Brothers was made, and payment of the latter one recommended, the former bill still remaining in protest, and disposition of it being deferred until further light could be obtained.

A bill of $30.06 from the East Liverpool company for coal, for Grant street and the West End schools, was ordered paid after a general discussion of some length. The following invitation from General Lyon Post, G. A. R. was read, received and accepted: MAY 4, 1896.

To the Board of Education, East Liverpool, Ohio:

Your honorable board, with the superintendent, teachers and pupils of the Liverpool schools, are hereby respectfully invited to participate in the exercises of Memorial Day (May 30). The exercises include the strewing with flowers the graves of the deceased of the war for the preservation of the union. Respectfully,

WM. B. McCORD,
Of Committee of Arrangements Gen. Lyon Post G. A. R.

After the reading of the above the members indulged in a little passing pleasantries. Mrs. Whitehead wished to know if the members of the board were expected to walk in the parade. Mr. Norris responded assuringly that it was always customary for officials to ride in carriages on an occasion of this character, and Mr. Stevenson remarked that, in view of the depleted condition of the treasury, carriage riding was out of the question. A few more jocular remarks, and the business of the evening was again proceeded with.

The clerk announced that he had received a communication from a fanatic living in a notorious locality in Pittsburg, crying shame on the action of the board in ordering the Bible read in the schools. He also asked that certain passages of scripture be read to the scholars. The letter was plainly the effusion of a crank, therefore it was referred back to the writer.

An application for the position of janitor of the Sixth street school was received, but was laid on the table without being acted upon. Two letters of inquiry were read, coming from teachers who wished to be advanced in teaching classes of a higher grade. President Pro tem Vodrey suggested that all matters of this nature be referred to the superintendent for his consideration. Mr. Sanor, who was present, arose and stated that the amount of correspondence involved in attending to these matters was enormous, and that it consumed a great deal of time that otherwise would be devoted to educational matters, but if it was the desire of the board that the superintendent should look after these things, he would do so to the best of his ability.

It was then decided to leave the receiving of teachers applications in the hands of the superintendent, he to use his judgment as to the fitness of the applicant to perform the duties of a teacher before presenting the application to the board. It was also the sentiment of the board that applicants residing in the city be given the preference. Professor Sanor assured the board that this had always been the case in the past, although it is necessary to engage teachers who live outside of the city. The superintendent also stated that several vacancies would occur soon, and that it would be well to make provisions to fill them.

The committee to compile the actual expenses that would devolve upon the board were continued until a fuller itemized account could be obtained.

The superintendent called the attention of the board to the necessity of putting in new black boards in the Grant street and West End schools. Complaint was also made from Gardendale that a new fence was needed there. Mr. Stevenson suggested that a committee be appointed to ascertain what repairs were needed and what the cost would be before action is taken in regard to the issuance of bonds. The defective sanitary condition of the Grant street and West End schools was the subject of discussion for some time but no action was taken.

Nickle announced the fact that the amount of the bonds tax levy had to be filed with the auditor at Lisbon soon, but this matter was left over until a future meeting. Owing to the lack of room in the East End school for the reception of pupils, a committee was appointed to confer with Superintendent Andrew and see if a two cent rate could be procured for the scholars in the East End who could attend the Fourth street school.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Harrison Rinehart Waives a Hearing and is Bound Over.

Harrison Rinehart was arraigned in Squire Manley's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Patrick Mooney. Rinehart waived a hearing and gave bond for his appearance at court in the sum of $100. From what can be learned in the case it seems that Rinehart had Mooney working for him, and when Saturday night came, after Rinehart had received his money for the job on which he was working, he refused to pay Mooney his money.

Mooney, after seeing Rinehart two or three times, went to Squire Manley and wanted suit entered. Manley advised him to go and see Rinehart again, and during this interview Rinehart slapped Mooney's face. Mooney then went back to Squire Manley's office and entered a charge of assault and battery against Rinehart and had a summons issued suing him for his wages, but before the summons could be issued Rinehart paid Mooney the money that he owed him. During the arraignment the lie was passed, and Rinehart was given to understand if any more such language was used he would be arrested.

A PLEASANT EVENT.

A Large Audience at the Entertainment Last Night.

A large audience greeted Miss L. Bessie Ashbaugh at her entertainment at the Grand last night. The evening was one of enjoyment to all, notwithstanding the stifling atmosphere. Charles L. Tarr opened the program by Rhapsodie Hongroise, rendered in an admirable manner. Byron W. King then entertained the audience by a selection entitled "The Escaped Prisoner," followed by one of Whitcomb Riley's humorous selections, "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin." After another of Riley's compositions, Mr. King gave a pathetic number, "The Dying Ranchman," which brought tears to the eyes of more than one of his listeners. Each recitation was liberally applauded. Miss Ashbaugh next appeared in a scene in one of Shakespeare's masterpieces, which showed careful training and exceptional elocutionary talent. The selection was well received, and the audience showed their appreciation by a storm of applause. On encore she gave several other numbers that were highly pleasing. The evening was one of enjoyment, and so interested were the audience they did not notice that it was near 11 o'clock when the program was concluded.

DESERTED THE HUSBAND.

Mother-in-law, Wife and Child Leave Yesterday.

Last night as a man, a potter who resides on one of the hills, arrived home from his work, he found his home deserted; his wife and child, accompanied by his mother-in-law, had left during the day. The husband investigated and learned that they had taken the train for Dennison, the former home of his wife; he rushed down to the station and vowed that he would overtake the two before morning come. The husband was in a very excitable frame of mind and heaped maledictions on the head of the mother-in-law, whom he blamed as the cause of the disturbed state of domestic felicity. He also said that part of the household goods were also taken, but for this he did not care. He wished to get possession of the child, and with this object in view he left for Dennison last night.

The excitable demeanor of the man at the depot was the subject of much comment from those who overheard the recital of wrongs and injustice that his mother-in-law, he said, had been guilty of.

IS A RAVING MANIAC.

'Squire Barrett, of Calcutta, Adjudged Insane.

TAKEN TO COUNTY INFIRMARY.

An Old Man Grows Tired of a Young Wife and Asks a Separation at the Hands of the Court—Mrs. Montries Is Freed from a Cruel Husband.

LISBON, May 5.—Charles A. Barrett, of Calcutta, aged 74 years, was last evening brought before the probate court and an inquest in lunacy held. Barrett was for nine years a justice of the peace in Calcutta, and a highly respected citizen. He was taken handcuffed and hobbled to the county infirmary pending the action of the authorities at the Cleveland insane asylum.

The divorce action filed by William A. Wernett against Mary A. Wernett was heard by Judge Smith yesterday. The parties were from Hanover township, and well known throughout the county. The husband is 78 years of age, while his wife is less than 30. Several months ago Mrs. Wernett filed a petition for alimony which was adjusted out of court by the defendant paying $5,000. The grounds for the present action is neglect of duty and adultery. Doctor Sanor, of Hanover township, has been named as the co-respondent in the case.

Rosa Montries, of Salem, was given a divorce in court yesterday from William Montries in an action based on adultery. The couple have been married six years.

Ex-Treasurer Martin's case against Jesse Kepner to recover a judgment for the $5,000 deficit in the county treasury two years ago, and which was assigned for hearing on May 20, has again been continued.

Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, has been secured to hold court in this county during next week, and Judge Johnson, of Youngstown, will preside the week following.

Briggs & Morrow, hardware merchants of Lisbon, took a judgment for $111.20 yesterday against S. H. Pritchard. An order was issued to sell his property.

A motion which was filed last week by H. Greiner & Son, C. C. Hax and Frank De Rhodes to remove W. H. Koll, as assignee of Joseph Koll, was heard last evening by Judge Young and sustained. The petitioners are creditors of Joseph Koll to the amount of $13,500. The claim was made that the assignee was not a suitable person to administer the trust, as his personal interests are directly antagonistic to the interests of the general creditors.

Marriage licenses were issued to William A. Coleman and Amanda Thom, of East Liverpool, William Garthwaite and Mary E. Hull, and Carl J. Muench and Minnie M. Croxall. There were 32 licenses issued during the month of April.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

The Health Officer and Sanitary Police Preparing for Trouble.

In a conversation with Health Officer Ogden last night, he stated that Sanitary policeman King and himself were preparing for trouble, as the orders of the board of health at their last meeting will be carried out to the letter, and all ordinances on the subject of nuisances will be rigidly observed. Persons will be ordered to abate what the health authorities term nuisances, and instead of giving the property owners all the time they see fit to take, the marshal will be ordered to notify them as the ordinance requires, and if it is not done then, the Sanitary Police will bring action against the parties, before the mayor. The first action that is brought will be a decided novelty, as heretofore the people have done about as they pleased when ordered to clean up their premises. Another good feature of this action is that the board of health meetings will not consist of a lot of unnecessary wrangling.

FIRE A GUN

And Came Near Filling a River Captain With Shot.

About 1 o'clock this morning, as Captain McCleary, of the Ford City, was passing the alley that crosses Second street, between Washington and Union, somebody who evidently resides up the alley, let go with a double-barreled shotgun, at a number of dogs, as it was subsequently learned. The shot fairly rained about the captain, and how he escaped without injury is a mystery. Immediately after the discharge of the gun a big black dog rushed out from the alley and this morning was found lying dead on the ground alongside of the Adams express office. The animal belonged to Henry Mautz, and he having a strong suspicion of who the person is who did the shooting, made information before the mayor. Not having positive evidence to convict, no warrant was sworn out, and Mautz left to secure more proof before pushing the case any further.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

The Republican nomination for, and consequent popular election to, the presidency seems to be within the reach of William McKinley. There have been idols of the party before. Indeed, it has seldom been without one. But there has never been the case in which the cause of the idolatry was so perceptible, so salient. There is no magnetic mystery in this case. The devotion of the Republican voters to McKinley is in the precise ratio of his devotion to protection. The man glorified the cause. The cause glorified him.—New York Press.

From time to time for many years past we have been in the habit of giving our friend, the present governor of the state, the best advice we could. A month or two ago we advised him to quit thinking about the presidency. Today, in his interest, and also in the interest of the state, we earnestly repeat that advice. Will he retire with such grace as may now be possible, or must the state of New York enter the National convention with its hands tied, while its sister states execute the people's will?—New York Tribune.

Bob Woodbridge, well known in this city, now a resident of Aspen, Col., sent Major William McKinley on the occasion of his re-election as governor of Ohio the following congratulatory telegram, which was simply a quotation from Shakespeare: "Glories are thine, and candor too, and shalt be thine hereafter." It looks very much now as if this were a prophetic message.—Youngstown Telegram.

"It will not do for the friends of Allison, or of Morton, or of Reed, or of Quay, to underrate the significance of this Illinois result. It is needless to discuss the question whether the McKinley boom is an artificial or a spontaneous movement. The boom is booming, and is more dangerous than ever.—New York Recorder.

BARBERS MEET

And Decide Not to Increase Rates in the Tonsorial Line.

The Barbers' union met last night and held an interesting session. A question that has been the subject of agitation for some time, the propriety of making a corresponding advance and reduction in rates was warmly discussed and finally settled, and the prices in vogue at present will still stand. The question in dispute was whether 15 cents should be charged for a shave when extra work was done and whether the price of hair-cutting could be reduced to 15 cents instead of 25 cents. Both propositions finally were defeated.

Two applications for membership to the union were received and will be acted upon at the next meeting.

A VALUABLE CANINE

Dies Last Night at the Hands of the Dog Poisoner.

The dog poisoner was at work last night, and as a result the valuable setter owned by Ambrose Webber expired in terrible agony. The canine was a valuable one, and large sums have been offered the owner for its purchase. Mr. Webber had a picture taken of the animal last week to forward to a trainer in Chicago, with a view to having the dog educated. This will prove a decidedly unhealthy climate for the dog poisoner if he is apprehended, as a large number of valuable canines have succumbed to his dastardly work. It is thought one man is doing the poisoning, as all the dogs killed have died in the same manner.

DRANK AMMONIA.

A Little Child in a Precarious Condition as a Result.

Yesterday afternoon while Mrs. Daniel Miller, of Third street, was house cleaning, she left a bottle of ammonia within reach of her infant son, George. The baby secured the bottle and before the mother could intervene swallowed a quantity of the acid. A doctor was at once sent for, who did all in his power to relieve the sufferings of the child, who is lying in a precarious condition. The little one's mouth and throat are terribly burned by the ammonia and it is feared cannot recover.

CLOSED THE FACTORY

Employees of the Akron China Works Discharged

WITHOUT ANY APPARENT REASON

The Stockholders are Indignant at the Actions of the Manager and a Meeting Has Been Called—Trouble Started in the Kiln Shed.

There is trouble at the Akron China works and the entire plant is idle.

The cause of the shutdown resulted from the discharge of a kiln hand, and latter the discharge of every workman in the entire plant. According to a letter received from a large stockholder in the works this morning the trouble began in the kiln shed, when the manager, Pierce Kirby, entered that department and without any apparent reason discharged an employee. He was asked for a cause for his action by the other kiln hands, but no satisfactory answer was given and the men put on their coats and walked out. The manager's ire was then roused to a high pitch and he discharged every remaining employee in the factory and closed the doors.

The stockholders are mad clean through at the unwarranted action of Mr. Kirby and a meeting has been called to look into the matter. There is a large accumulation of orders and the shutdown seriously handicaps their business.

COMPANY E MET.

A Small Attendance of Soldiers at the Armory.

Company E met at the armory for drill last night, but there was not a sufficient number present to drill in fours.

Squads were sent over the town in search of absentees, but did not succeed in getting a sufficient number, although several were caught and made extra duty at the armory. Captain Hill says there is but one thing left for him to do, and that is to make an example of some of the members by a heavy fine and imprisonment until paid. A drill is called for next Monday night, and unless a satisfactory excuse can be furnished, all soldiers not responding at roll call will be dealt with severely.

Some of the boys refuse to attend drill because there is no hall and say they will not go on the streets. Captain Hill requested the privates to become proficient in the regulations, as there would be some promotions in the near future to take the places of a number of present non-commissioned officers, who will be reduced to the ranks if they do not take more interest in the company.

SHE WAS MAD.

An East End Woman Wants a Grievance Aired.

Mrs. Rigby, of East End, called at the News Review office yesterday afternoon, and had a grievance which she wanted aired in our columns. She said she had sent her little daughter to town to buy a package of seed and mail a letter, giving her a dime and two pennies, the latter for a postage stamp. The child purchased the stamp handing the clerk the dime and one penny by mistake, which he put into the till. The little girl returned home without the seed and told her mother that she had given the clerk 11 cents for postage. Mrs. Rigby at once came to town for the desired seed, stopping at the postoffice to inquire why the dime was not returned to the child. She says the clerk treated her contemptuously and would not give it up.

FOR LABOR DAY.

Arrangements Will be Started This Week.

Trades council will meet in regular session tomorrow evening at their hall in the Whittenberger block, and will nominate officers for the ensuing year. Besides this, arrangements for Labor Day will be discussed and a committee will be appointed to look after the program, and make all preparations that they may deem to be necessary at the present time. Although Labor Day has been a great success in the past it is the intention of the members of Trades council to make it a still greater success in the future. Their reason for starting so early to make the arrangements is that there is a great deal of work connected with the day, and the sooner they start the better able they are to perfect the plans.

The Health Officer and Sanitary Police Preparing for Trouble.

In a conversation with Health Officer Ogden last night, he stated that Sanitary policeman King and himself were preparing for trouble, as the orders of the board of health at their last meeting will be carried out to the letter, and all ordinances on the subject of nuisances will be rigidly observed. Persons will be ordered to abate what the health authorities term nuisances, and instead of giving the property owners all the time they see fit to take, the marshal will be ordered to notify them as the ordinance requires, and if it is not done then, the Sanitary Police will bring action against the parties, before the mayor. The first action that is brought will be a decided novelty, as heretofore the people have done about as they pleased when ordered to clean up their premises. Another good feature of this action is that the board of health meetings will not consist of a lot of unnecessary wrangling.

FIRE A GUN

And Came Near Filling a River Captain With Shot.

About 1 o'clock this morning, as Captain McCreary, of the Ford City, was passing the alley that crosses Second street, between Washington and Union, somebody who evidently resides up the alley, let go with a double-barreled shotgun, at a number of dogs, as it was subsequently learned. The shot fairly rained about the captain, and how he escaped without injury is a mystery. Immediately after the discharge of the gun a big black dog rushed out from the alley and this morning was found lying dead on the ground alongside of the Adams express office. The animal belonged to Henry Mautz, and he having a strong suspicion of who the person is who did the shooting, made information before the mayor. Not having positive evidence to convict, no warrant was sworn out, and Mautz left to secure more proof before pushing the case any further.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

The Republican nomination for, and consequent popular election to, the presidency seems to be within the reach of William McKinley. There have been idols of the party before. Indeed, it has seldom been without one. But there has never been the case in which the cause of the idolatry was so perceptible, so salient. There is no magnetic mystery in this case. The devotion of the Republican voters to McKinley is in the precise ratio of his devotion to protection. The man glorified the cause. The cause glorified him.—New York Press.

From time to time for many years past we have been in the habit of giving our friend, the present governor of the state, the best advice we could. A month or two ago we advised him to quit thinking about the presidency. Today, in his interest, and also in the interest of the state, we earnestly repeat that advice. Will he retire with such grace as may now be possible, or must the state of New York enter the National convention with its hands tied, while its sister states execute the people's will?—New York Tribune.

Bob Woodbridge, well known in this city, now a resident of Aspen, Col., sent Major William McKinley on the occasion of his re-election as governor of Ohio the following congratulatory telegram, which was simply a quotation from Shakespeare: "Glories are thine, and candor too, and shalt be king hereafter." It looks very much now as if this were a prophetic message.—Youngstown Telegram.

"It will not do for the friends of Allison, or of Morton, or of Reed, or of Quay, to underrate the significance of this Illinois result. It is needless to discuss the question whether the McKinley boom is an artificial or a spontaneous movement. The boom is booming, and is more dangerous than ever.—New York Recorder.

BARBERS MEET

And Decide Not to Increase Rates in the Tonsorial Line.

The Barbers' union met last night and held an interesting session. A question that has been the subject of agitation for some time, the propriety of making a corresponding advance and reduction in rates was warmly discussed and finally settled, and the prices in vogue at present will still stand. The question in dispute was whether 15 cents should be charged for a shave when extra work was done and whether the price of hair-cutting could be reduced to 15 cents instead of 25 cents. Both propositions finally were defeated.

Two applications for membership to the union were received and will be acted upon at the next meeting.

A VALUABLE CANINE

Dies Last Night at the Hands of the Dog Poisoner.

The dog poisoner was at work last night, and as a result the valuable setter owned by Ambrose Webber expired in terrible agony. The canine was a valuable one, and large sums have been offered the owner for its purchase. Mr. Webber had a picture taken of the animal last week to forward to a trainer in Chicago, with a view to having the dog educated. This will prove a decidedly unhealthy climate for the dog poisoner if he is apprehended, as a large number of valuable canines have succumbed to his dastardly work. It is thought one man is doing the poisoning, as all the dogs killed have died in the same manner.

DRANK AMMONIA.

A Little Child in a Precarious Condition as a Result.

Yesterday afternoon while Mrs. Daniel Miller, of Third street, was house cleaning, she left a bottle of ammonia within reach of her infant son, George. The baby secured the bottle and before the mother could intervene swallowed a quantity of the acid. A doctor was at once sent for, who did all in his power to relieve the sufferings of the child, who is lying in a precarious condition. The little one's mouth and throat are terribly burned by the ammonia and it is feared cannot recover.

Employees of the Akron China Works Discharged

WITHOUT ANY APPARENT REASON

The Stockholders are Indignant at the Actions of the Manager and a Meeting Has Been Called—Trouble Started in the Kiln Shed.

There is trouble at the Akron China works and the entire plant is idle.

The cause of the shutdown resulted from the discharge of a kiln hand, and latter the discharge of every workman in the entire plant. According to a letter received from a large stockholder in the works this morning the trouble began in the kiln shed, when the manager, Pierce Kirby, entered that department and without any apparent reason discharged an employee. He was asked for a cause for his action by the other kiln hands, but no satisfactory answer was given and the men put on their coats and walked out. The manager's ire was then roused to a high pitch and he discharged every remaining employee in the factory and closed the doors.

The stockholders are mad clean through at the unwarranted action of Mr. Kirby and a meeting has been called to look into the matter. There is a large accumulation of orders and the shutdown seriously handicaps their business.

Over one hundred employees are affected by the lockout, but it is thought the matter will be amicably adjusted in a short time.

COMPANY E MET.

A Small Attendance of Soldiers at the Armory.

Company E met at the armory for drill last night, but there was not a sufficient number present to drill in fours.

Squads were sent over the town in search of absentees, but did not succeed in getting a sufficient number, although several were caught and made extra duty at the armory. Captain Hill says there is but one thing left for him to do, and that is to make an example of some of the members by a heavy fine and imprisonment until paid. A drill is called for next Monday night, and unless a satisfactory excuse can be furnished, all soldiers not responding at roll call will be dealt with severely.

Some of the boys refuse to attend drill because there is no hall and say they will not go on the streets. Captain Hill requested the privates to become prodigal in the regulations, as there would be some promotions in the near future to take the places of a number of present non-commissioned officers, who will be reduced to the ranks if they do not take more interest in the company.

SHE WAS MAD.

An East End Woman Wants a Grievance Aired.

Mrs. Rigby, of East End, called at the News Review office yesterday afternoon, and had a grievance which she wanted aired in our columns. She said she had sent her little daughter to town to buy a package of seed and mail a letter, giving her a dime and two pennies, the latter for a postage stamp. The child purchased the stamp handing the clerk the dime and one penny by mistake, which he put into the till. The little girl returned home without the seed and told her mother that she had given the clerk 11 cents for postage. Mrs. Rigby at once came to town for the desired seed, stopping at the postoffice to inquire why the dime was not returned to the child. She says the clerk treated her contemptuously and would not give it up.

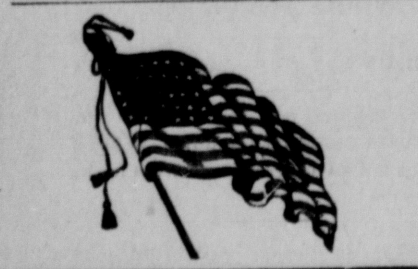

FOR LABOR DAY.

Arrangements Will be Started This Week.

Trades council will meet in regular session tomorrow evening at their hall in the Whittenberger block, and will nominate officers for the ensuing year. Besides this, arrangements for Labor Day will be discussed and a committee will be appointed to look after the program, and make all preparations that they may deem to be necessary at the present time. Although Labor Day has been a great success in the past it is the intention of the members of Trades council to make it a still greater success in the future. Their reason for starting so early to make the arrangements is that there is a great deal of work connected with the day, and the sooner they start the better able they are to perfect the plans.

OF OHIO.

ENFORCE HEALTH LAWS.

Their enforcement is an absolute necessity. Health officer Ogden and Sanitary policeman King will be upheld by not only the law in this case, but by every good citizen in East Liverpool. If careless and reckless men and women will trifle over such an important matter, and cause great danger of an epidemic, then they should be called down at once by our health officials, and compelled to stand the penalty. Turn on the light.

STAND BY THE RIGHT.

No man ever did the right, from pure motives, without having the approval of God. An all-wise Creator has so ordered affairs. In the darkest hours, when desolation and sorrow apparently encompass you, remember that the Almighty has promised that the right shall prevail; and His promises are never broken. He will not try you beyond your strength. It is always darkest just before day. Remember that behind the darkest cloud of life's experience, rests the silver lining of God's infinite, loving, all-wise presence, only awaiting the right moment to come to the rescue of His children, those who believe Him, love Him, trust Him. And remember that God oftentimes uses human instrumentalities in the accomplishment of His all-wise purposes. Let the world at large become aware of the fact that you are a true man or true woman, true to principle and right, and many men and true women will surely rally about you and hold up your hands and assist you in your battle against evil and wrong. Be courageous. Have the courage of your convictions. If you have right upon your side, you have a platform which is as strong as the rocks of Gibraltar. Be brave and steadfast—God has no use for cowards. His orders are obeyed and fulfilled by brave and loyal soldiers, battling to the death, if need be, always sure of the crown.

"Our country. Pray God she may be right; but, our country, right or wrong." This is the policy advocated by many politicians of note all over the land, and is being advocated by petty bosses, of lesser note, in East Liverpool. It is the cry and policy of an unsafe man. It is a policy which makes such a man the very worst enemy that a party, such as the grand old Republican party, can have in its ranks. Why? Because wrong will eventually meet with bitter and complete defeat. "Our party; we want our party to be right; but we will stick to our party, even when we know that her principles, or platform, are wrong and those of our opponents are right." We love the Republican party for what she has done for this great nation, is doing now, and is expected, by all true men, to do in the future. But, just so surely as the sun shines, the Republican party will go down into the valley of defeat and disaster if she advocates and permits the wrong. This is the essence of truth. There is no gainsaying it. God has said that wrong shall not conquer right; it is so written, and must be the result. One true and staunch Republican of East Liverpool, whose word is his bond, boasted the other day, in this office, that he had never scratched his ticket, but had voted her straight every time. The question was put to him: "Suppose that, by fair means or foul, a dissipated and vile man was nominated by the Republican ticket for any berth—a man whom you know would reflect discredit upon the city and who would act in opposition to law and order and the best interests of the community at large; and suppose there was a citizens ticket in the field, and their candidate was a clean and pure man, whom you had known all your life, one who would enforce the laws and ordinances and make it his aim to advance the best interests of East Liverpool and her inhabitants—what would you do? Would you still stick to party and vote for the disreputable character—the bad man?" The gentleman hesitated for a moment and then made reply: "No, I would not. I would vote for the clean man." And so should every good citizen do, and thus teach pot house politicians, by and through the defeat of their pet schemes and forced-upon-the-people candidates, that the masses are much more intelligent than in former years, and that they will not permit political wire pullers to use them as mere tools, to accomplish the will of the petty bosses and would-be dictators.

DUCKS DROWN AN EAGLE.

Alleged Exploit Attributed to Crow Ducks on the Potomac.

If a writer for The American Field is to be believed, the crow duck is a most extraordinary bird on the Potomac river, cutting up such capers as to make even a naturalist gasp. "Four years ago," he writes, "while shooting ducks with Mr. Waller, I noticed a flock of 3,000 or 4,000 crow ducks. After half an hour I noticed an eagle going toward the flock. When he arrived at the proper distance, he made a dart, but the ducks, as if by magic, went under water like a flash and sent up a volume as if a big mine had been exploded. This was done time and time again, and finally the volume of water thrown up was so great that the eagle was nearly drowned. An old ducker once told me that he once witnessed the same scene and that the eagle was drowned. This is a sight seldom seen, which may occur but once in a ducking life of 50 years."

This crow duck is also known as the American coot, mud hen, blue peter and Fulica americana by various hunters and alongshore people. Up north these ducks may be seen in creeks and marshy, reed grown rivers, but south in Florida they resort in enormous numbers to the lakes where bonnets or yellow lilies abound, associating there with lesser scaup ducks. They are shy birds, being much persecuted usually, but in localities where shooting is prohibited, near the Titusville (Fla.) railroad pier, for instance, they are as tame as sparrows, understanding that there they are safe.

The nearest anybody ever came to the drowning eagle story was Frank M. Chapman in his "Birds of Eastern North America," when he says: "When alarmed, they patter over the water, using their feet as much as their wings. The sound produced is a characteristic one." He does not say whether the water flies or not, but one could imagine that a crow duck just as it turned up to dive could give its scalloped webbed feet a kick up behind, like a vicious mule, and so saturating the eagle, that it would be drowned. Eagles often catch living fish out of the water, and, of course, get more or less wet in doing so, but perhaps the Potomac river eagles are of a different species than those known to bird books.

ORIGIN OF ICEBERGS.

A New South Wales Scientist Advances a Theory of Their Formation.

In a paper read before the Royal society of New South Wales Mr. H. C. Russell dealt with the origin and release of icebergs. As is known, the number of icebergs met with between the cape of Good Hope and Australia differs greatly, being much more numerous in some years than in others. There has, for example, within the past few years been a very large accession of enormous icebergs, and it has been suggested as an explanation of this that unusually heavy falls of snow may account for it by accelerating the motion of the ice.

Mr. Russell, however, assures us that the circumstances forbid the acceptance of this view, because the motion of the glacier depends mainly on the declivity down which it is descending, and that does not alter. The piling up of snow could not in one year cause such a marked increase in the rate of flow as would be necessary to account for the enormous increase in the number of icebergs which appear from time to time. It is obvious that there must be a force sufficient to break off the icebergs which are slowly forming on the shore and to do it at irregular periods separated by many years, and in Mr. Russell's opinion the true cause is found in the volcanoes of the antarctic continent.

When these burst forth in eruption, and by that act shake the foreshores, the icebergs are broken off from the glaciers. This view is to some extent confirmed by the report of the United States hydrographic office on the floating ice seen during 1892 and 1893 in the south Atlantic east of Cape Horn. In that report it is stated that the icebergs were of such size that they could not have been formed on small, low lying islands, but only on a large continent, where glaciers of great height could form.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Lord Leighton.

Although an Englishman, Leighton was brought up abroad, and this is no doubt a sufficient reason why his works seem to stand apart from those of his contemporaries of the English school. Born at Scarborough on the 8d of December, 1830, the son of a doctor, he was taken abroad at a very early age on account of his mother's delicate health. In 1840 the Leightons went to Rome, where he learned drawing regularly under Signor Meli. They then moved to Dresden and Berlin, where he attended classes at the academy. In 1843 he was sent to school at Frankfurt, and in the winter of the following year accompanied his family to Florence. It was here that his future career was finally settled. His father consulted Hiram Powers, the celebrated American sculptor, who, in answer to the question, "Shall I make him an artist?" replied, "Sir, you have no choice in the matter; nature has done it for you."—Cosmo Monkhouse in Scribner's.

A BUILDING WRECKED.

Fearful Catastrophe on a Busy Cincinnati Street.

MANY DEAD, DYING AND INJURED.

Some Fastened in the Ruins of the Big Collapsed Structure—An Explosion of Gasoline in the Cellar the Cause—Rescue Work Going On.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—The five-story building, 430 and 432 Walnut street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has been blown to the ground by an explosion of gasoline. The shock was so terrific that it was felt all over the city, and not one brick upon another is left in the front and rear walls of the building, while the adjacent buildings are badly damaged and the glass in the windows of the Gibson House and large Johnson building across the street were all broken. The glass was broken out of street cars that were passing at the time, and one of the cars was badly wrecked, but none of the passengers were seriously hurt. All the horses in the immediate neighborhood broke from their fastenings and ran away, and there was not only intense excitement, but also the greatest confusion.

The explosion took place four doors from the intersection from Fifth and Walnut streets, where the postoffice is located on one side and Fountain square on the other. No part of the city is more crowded and there were some many thousands of people about Fountain square and the space around the government building, while Walnut street was completely blocked. There were first reports about fireworks being stored in the building and also about dynamite and ammunition, so that there were several stampedes in the immense crowds on the reports about other explosions likely to follow. Several people were slightly hurt in these stampedes.

The ground floor of 432 Walnut street was occupied by Adolph C. Drach, as a saloon. He owned that part of the building and the other part was owned by M. Goldsmith, and the first floor of this building, at 430 Walnut street, was also occupied by a saloon run by Louis Fey. The upper floors of the five-story building were occupied as flats.

It is not known definitely how many are killed and injured. At least 6 are dead and 18 hurt.

It is not known how many people were in the flats or how many were in the saloons, but none escaped, as the building immediately collapsed. There was no fire to consume the debris and make certain the death of all in the building, but the dust and dirt continued flying for a long time so densely that the work of rescuing the victims proceeded with great difficulty, although the police and fire departments rallied heroically to the work. The saloons were said to be quite full of people.

Adolph Drach and 5-year-old daughter are dead, his 3-year-old boy dying and his wife, though alive is pinned in the ruins. Noland Davitt, a traveling man for the Columbia Carriage company of Hamilton, O., and two others unidentified complete the list of those known to be dead. Davitt was blown under a street car and killed. The child of a barkeeper has also been taken out dead.

Among the injured are: Sid Johnson, barkeeper for Louis Fey, arm broken; Billy Cook, waterworks employee, arm broken; Joseph Mammel, not serious; Harry Harwick, waterworks employee, cut on the head; Fred Healy, arm and shoulder; Motorman, Stoffel, Joseph Sprague, porter; Conductor Foliard, — Fisher, — Huron, Wm. Lanth, William Loehide, H. E. Hunwick, bookkeeper; S. S. Wells, clerk; W. D. Crosey, paperhanger; Willard E. Cook, clerk; J. D. Ward, race horse man of Toledo.

Among the missing who are believed to be in the ruins are: R. A. Fricko of Norwood; Joseph Worthner, barkeeper; Louis Fey, wife and baby; also two servant girls in the families of Fey and Drach.

Jack McCarthy, Peter Burns and Charles Filly were taken out alive, but will probably die.

Herman Nolte, Jr., was standing by a barbershop pole in adjoining building when struck by some debris and suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

Several are still alive in the ruins. One of the barkeepers, who was not on duty at the time and escaped, lived in one of the upper flats, and was with grief because he knew that his wife and four children were in the ruins. One of his children was recovered dead soon after the explosion.

Mr. John J. James of the Salt Lake City Herald was just leaving the Gibson House at the time of the explosion, and with his heavy grip was blown into the doorway of an adjoining store. He was knocked senseless, but afterward recovered sufficiently to take the train for St. Louis on his way west.

There were many that suffered slight injuries who were taken to their homes and whose names cannot be learned. Some of those who were in the saloons were thrown out on the sidewalk and suffered slight injuries. Among them Mr. Healy of the Alms hotel. He was in Fey's place and reports about 18 or 20 in that resort when the building went down.

Mr. Drach being among the victims it is probable that it will never be known how the explosion came about. He had just been down in the basement experimenting with the gasoline engine and had poured a barrel of gasoline into the tank, which had caused the explosion. He had just secured a new engine from Lafayette, Ind., intending to start it for motive power in furnishing incandescent light.

Thread Companies Consolidate.

England Is Not Pleased.

LONDON, May 5.—It is stated here that preparations are being made to appeal, through Brussels, against the acquittal of Captain Lothaire, the Belgian officer who hanged the English trader, Stokes, in the Congo Free State.

BOULETTE CALLED TO ORDER.

He Criticized Senators' Action on the Naval Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The first skirmish over the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill reducing the number of battleships provided for in that bill from four to two, occurred in the house when Mr. Boutelle, chairman of the naval committee, moved to non-concur in all the senate amendments and request a conference of the senate. Mr. Boutelle undertook to chastise some of the senators for their inconsistency. He referred to the war scare of the past winter and the bellicose resolutions introduced in the senate and then sarcastically contrasted the war talk of some of the senators with their votes to reduce the number of battleships provided for in the bill.

Mr. Quigg (Rep., N. Y.) called Mr. Boutelle to order for criticizing members of the upper house, and was sustained by the chair after some very lively sparring. Mr. Boutelle, however, accomplished all he had intended despite the chair's ruling. Subsequently Mr. Sayers (Tex.) moved to concur in the senate amendment reducing the number of battleships, but by consent the motion went over for action until today, when it is likely that the whole question of large appropriations at this time for strengthening the navy will be reopened.

DO SOMETHING FOR CUBA.

This the Import of a Resolution in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Representative Woodman (Ill.) introduced a resolution providing that the house of representatives directly request the president to make immediate proclamation that a condition of war in Cuba is recognized, and that it is the purpose of this government to preserve a position of neutrality, and that the United States will look with especial disfavor on the continuance of any methods of warfare not recognized in the rules of war as practiced by the leading nations of the civilized world.

In the preamble it is recited that the executive department of the government has not seen fit to act on the almost universal recommendation of the people as expressed by both branches of congress and that the situation in that most unhappy island is becoming a stench in the nostrils of christendom; the murders, the outrages, the barbarities and horrors perpetrated by the Spanish in Cuba are so notorious that civilization itself stands appalled.

THE SENATE SESSION.

Feffer's Bond Inquiry Resolution Forced to the Front.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—When the intended action to consider the river and harbor bill was attempted in the senate it was antagonized by a motion by Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.) to consider the Dupont election case. Senator Mitchell, with considerable display of feeling, sought to prevent this course, but by an aye and nay vote, resulting 32 to 31, the senate decided to take up the Dupont case. Later an agreement was effected to postpone the matter until the river and harbor bill was passed, the final vote in the election case to be taken two days after consideration was begun.

Mr. Feffer refused to further delay the bond investigation resolution and his motion to proceed with the resolution was upheld by 39 to 28, thus displacing the river and harbor bill. Mr. Hill thereupon took the floor and spoke until adjournment.

President Wants Weilberg Tried.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the supreme court the solicitor general moved to advance for hearing this term the case of Weilberg vs. the United States, convicted of aiding a military expedition in aid of Cuba in violation of the neutrality laws, stating that the expedition of the case was desired by the president and the secretary of state. The motion was resisted, and the case went over until today.

Government Employees Suspended.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Twenty special agents of the general land office have been ordered suspended from May 16 to June 30, inclusive, on account of the inadequate appropriation for the current fiscal year.

WOULD CLEAR JACKSON

If There Were Not Suspicious Trimmings to the Story.

A BRAKEMAN'S UNLIKELY TALE.

He Says He and a Woman and a Doctor Hunted Pearl Jackson's Dead Body From Cincinnati to Where It Was Found—A Witness Coached.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 5.—Sensational evidence has been given in Scott Jackson's trial by William R. trusty of Urbana, Ill. He was a brakeman on the Southern railroad within six years before Pearl Bryan's murder. He testified to meeting Georgia Baker, alias Emma Evans, at 10 o'clock on the night of the murder. They were joined by an old doctor who was a friend of the woman. Through these parties Trusty was employed to drive a cab. They stopped at a house on George street, in the tenderloin district, where the doctor carried the body of a woman from the house into the cab. Then they drove across the Newport bridge and stopped near the place where Pearl Bryan's body was found the next morning. The old man carried the body across the fence and afterward they drove back to Cincinnati. Trusty testified that they drove a gray horse and a rig similar to the one that George Jackson described. The old doctor, whose name trusty never learned, gave him $10 for the job. Trusty afterward returned to his home in Urbana, Ill., where he told the story about this midnight drive to his father.

The witness was kept under a furious cross-examination. He said his father was a third cousin to John Seward, or Sward, as he sometimes spells his name, who is a detective of Somerset, Ky., employed by the defense. He identified a photograph of John Seward as the same person as an engraving on the outside of a pamphlet in the hands of the prosecution, which pamphlet was entitled "The confession of John Sward of his complicity in a murder in Casey county, Ky." It also developed in the testimony of this witness that John Seward served one term in the Kentucky penitentiary. Furthermore, it transpired that John Seward had visited Urbana, Ill., in February and had talked with witness, William R. Trusty, and his father, William Trusty, about this murder.

Furthermore, letters were shown from William Trusty, Sr., to Mr. A. S. Bray and to Bryan's attorney, Mr. Hays, in February, offering for a sure consideration to thwart the defense in its purpose to procure evidence to prove Pearl Bryan died in Cincinnati and was taken to Kentucky and beheaded. It was also shown that John Seward had coached the witness George Dayton, who made a complete flank on the stand. They produced written directions prepared by Seward and given to Dayton to testify to. He failed to deliver the goods when the time came. The prosecution anticipated this testimony of witnesses produced by Seward and have counteracting witnesses here.

A White Girl Murdered.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Elsie Kreglo, a white girl 10 years old, has been murdered in a ravine near the National Zoological park. The body was found in a small creek about 100 yards from the girl's home, with her throat cut. Cries for help were heard by the Kreglo family and a sister and a colored boy ran to her. She had made a hard fight for her honor. A negro was seen running from the spot.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, MAY 5.

UNION LABEL

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, O. Ohio.

ENFORCE HEALTH LAWS.

Their enforcement is an absolute necessity. Health officer Ogden and Sanitary policeman King will be upheld by not only the law in this case, but by every good citizen in East Liverpool. If careless and reckless men and women will trifle over such an important matter, and cause great danger of an epidemic, then they should be called down at once by our health officials, and compelled to stand the penalty. Turn on the light.

STAND BY THE RIGHT.

No man ever did the right, from pure motives, without having the approval of God. An all-wise Creator has so ordered affairs. In the darkest hours, when desolation and sorrow apparently encompass you, remember that the Almighty has promised that the right shall prevail; and His promises are never broken. He will not try you beyond your strength. It is always darkest just before day. Remember that behind the darkest cloud of life's experience, rests the silver lining of God's infinite, loving, all-wise presence, only awaiting the right moment to come to the rescue of His children, those who believe him, love him, trust him. And remember that God oftentimes uses human instrumentalities in the accomplishment of his all-wise purposes. Let the world at large become aware of the fact that you are a true man or true woman, true to principle and right, and manly men and true women will surely rally about you and hold up your hands and assist you in your battle against evil and wrong. Be courageous. Have the courage of your convictions. If you have right upon your side, you have a platform which is as strong as the rocks of Gibraltar. Be brave and steadfast—God has no use for cowards. His orders are obeyed and fulfilled by brave and loyal soldiers, battling to the death, if need be, always sure of the crown.

"Our country. Pray God she may be right; but, our country, right or wrong." This is the policy advocated by many politicians of note all over the land, and is being advocated by petty bosses, of lesser note, in East Liverpool. It is the cry and policy of an unsafe man. It is a policy which makes such a man the very worst enemy that a party, such as the grand old Republican party, can have in its ranks. Why? Because wrong will eventually meet with bitter and complete defeat. "Our party; we want our party to be right; but we will stick to our party, even when we know that her principles, or platform, are wrong and those of our opponents are right." We love the Republican party for what she has done for this great nation, is doing now, and is expected, by all true men, to do in the future. But, just so surely as the sun shines, the Republican party will go down into the valley of defeat and disaster if she advocates and permits the wrong. This is the essence of truth. There is no gainsaying it. God has said that wrong shall not conquer right; it is so written, and must be the result. One true and staunch Republican of East Liverpool, whose word is his bond, boasted the other day, in this office, that he had never scratched his ticket, but had voted her straight every time. The question was put to him: "Suppose that, by fair means or foul, a dissipated and vile man was nominated by the Republican ticket for any berth—a man whom you know would reflect discredit upon the city and who would act in opposition to law and order and the best interests of the community at large; and suppose there was a citizens ticket in the field, and their candidate was a clean and pure man, whom you had known all your life, one who would enforce the laws and ordinances and make it his aim to advance the best interests of East Liverpool and her inhabitants—what would you do? Would you still stick to party and vote for the disreputable character—the bad man?" The gentleman hesitated for a moment and then made reply: "No, I would not. I would vote for the clean man." And so should every good citizen do, and thus teach pot house politicians, by and through the defeat of their pet schemes and forced-upon-the-people candidates, that the masses are much more intelligent than in former years, and that they will not permit political wire pullers to use them as mere tools, to accomplish the will of the petty bosses and would-be dictators.

DUCKS DROWN AN EAGLE.

Alleged Exploit Attributed to Crow Ducks on the Potomac.

If a writer for The American Field is to be believed, the crow duck is a most extraordinary bird on the Potomac river, cutting up such capers as to make even a naturalist gasp.

"Four years ago," he writes, "while shooting ducks with Mr. Waller, I noticed a flock of 3,000 or 4,000 crow ducks. After half an hour I noticed an eagle going toward the flock. When he arrived at the proper distance, he made a dart, but the ducks, as if by magic, went under water like a flash and sent up a volume as if a big mine had been exploded. This was done time and time again, and finally the volume of water thrown up was so great that the eagle was nearly drowned. An old ducker once told me that he once witnessed the same scene and that the eagle was drowned. This is a sight seldom seen, which may occur but once in a ducking life of 50 years."

This crow duck is also known as the American coot, mud hen, blue peter and Pulica americana by various hunters and anglers.

Up north these ducks may be seen in creeks and marshy, reed grown rivers, but south in Florida they resort in enormous numbers to the lakes where bonnets or yellow lilies abound, associating there with lesser scap ducks. They are shy birds, being much persecuted usually, but in localities where shooting is prohibited, near the Titusville (Fla.) railroad pier, for instance, they are as tame as sparrows, understanding that there they are safe.

The nearest anybody ever came to the drowning eagle story was Frank M. Chapman in his "Birds of Eastern North America," when he says: "When alarmed, they patter over the water, using their feet as much as their wings. The sound produced is a characteristic one." He does not say whether the water flies or not, but one could imagine that a crow duck just as it turned up to dive could give its scalloped webbed feet a kick up behind, like a vicious mule, and so saturating the eagle that it would be drowned. Eagles often catch living fish out of the water, and, of course, get more or less wet in doing so, but perhaps the Potomac river eagles are of a different species than those known to bird books.

ORIGIN OF ICEBERGS.

A New South Wales Scientist Advances a Theory of Their Formation.

In a paper read before the Royal Society of New South Wales Mr. H. C. Russell dealt with the origin and release of icebergs. As is known, the number of icebergs met with between the cape of Good Hope and Australia differs greatly, being much more numerous in some years than in others. There has, for example, within the past few years been a very large accession of enormous icebergs, and it has been suggested as an explanation of this that unusually heavy falls of snow may account for it by accelerating the motion of the ice.

Mr. Russell, however, assures us that the circumstances forbid the acceptance of this view, because the motion of the glacier depends mainly on the declivity down which it is descending, and that does not alter. The piling up of snow could not in one year cause such a marked increase in the rate of flow as would be necessary to account for the enormous increase in the number of icebergs which appear from time to time. It is obvious that there must be a force sufficient to break off the icebergs which are slowly forming on the shore and to do it at irregular periods separated by many years, and in Mr. Russell's opinion the true cause is found in the volcanoes of the antarctic continent.

When these burst forth in eruption, and by that act shake the foreshores, the icebergs are broken off from the glaciers. This view is to some extent confirmed by the report of the United States hydrographic office on the floating ice seen during 1892 and 1893 in the south Atlantic east of Cape Horn. In that report it is stated that the icebergs were of such size that they could not have been formed on small, low lying islands, but only on a large continent, where glaciers of great height could form.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Lord Leighton.

Although an Englishman, Leighton was brought up abroad, and this is no doubt a sufficient reason why his works seem to stand apart from those of his contemporaries of the English school. Born at Scarborough on the 3d of December, 1830, the son of a doctor, he was taken abroad at a very early age on account of his mother's delicate health. In 1840 the Leightons went to Rome, where he learned drawing regularly under Signor Meli. They then moved to Dresden and Berlin, where he attended classes at the academy. In 1843 he was sent to school at Frankfurt, and in the winter of the following year accompanied his family to Florence. It was here that his future career was finally settled. His father consulted Hiram Powers, the celebrated American sculptor, who, in answer to the question, "Shall I make him an artist?" replied, "Sir, you have no choice in the matter; nature has done it for you."—Cosmo Monkhouse in Scribner's.

A BUILDING WRECKED.

Fearful Catastrophe on a Busy Cincinnati Street.

MANY DEAD, DYING AND INJURED.

Some Fastened in the Ruins of the Big Collapsed Structure—An Explosion of Gasoline in the Cellar the Cause—Rescue Work Going On.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—The five-story building, 430 and 432 Walnut street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has been blown to the ground by an explosion of gasoline. The shock was so terrific that it was felt all over the city, and not one brick upon another is left in the front and rear walls of the building, while the adjacent buildings are badly damaged and the glass in the windows of the Gibson House and large Johnson building across the street were all broken. The glass was broken out of street cars that were passing at the time, and one of the cars was badly wrecked, but none of the passengers were seriously hurt. All the horses in the immediate neighborhood broke from their fastenings and ran away, and there was not only intense excitement, but also the greatest confusion.

The explosion took place four doors from the intersection from Fifth and Walnut streets, where the postoffice is located on one side and Fountain square on the other. No part of the city is more crowded and there were soon many thousands of people about Fountain square and the space around the government building, while Walnut street was completely blocked. There were first reports about fireworks being stored in the building and also about dynamite and ammunition, so that there were several stampedes in the immense crowds on the reports about other explosions likely to follow. Several people were slightly hurt in these stampedes.

The ground floor of 432 Walnut street was occupied by Adolph C. Drach as a saloon. He owned that part of the building and the other part was owned by M. Goldsmith, and the first floor of this building, at 430 Walnut street, was also occupied by a saloon run by Louis Fey. The upper floors of the five-story building were occupied as flats.

It is not known definitely how many are killed and injured. At least 6 are dead and 18 hurt.

It is not known how many people were in the flats or how many were in the saloons, but none escaped, as the building immediately collapsed. There was no fire to consume the debris and make certain the death of all in the building, but the dust and dirt continued flying for a long time so densely that the work of rescuing the victims proceeded with great difficulty, although the police and fire departments rallied heroically to the work. The saloons were said to be quite full of people.

Adolph Drach and 5-year-old daughter are dead, his 3-year-old boy dying and his wife, though alive is pinioned in the ruins. Noland Davitt, a traveling man for the Columbia Carriage company of Hamilton, O., and two others unidentified complete the list of those known to be dead. Davitt was blown under a street car and killed. The child of a barkeeper has also been taken out dead.

Among the injured are: Sid Johnson, barkeeper for Louis Fey, arm broken; Billy Cook, waterworks employee, arm broken; Barbara Hattleson, log broken; Joseph Memmel, not serious; Harry Harwick, waterworks employee, cut on the head; Fred Healy, arm and shoulder; Motorman Stoffel, Joseph Sprague, porter; Conductor Follard, — Fisher, — Huron, Wm. Lauth, William Lohide, H. E. Hunwick, bookkeeper; S. S. Wells, clerk; W. D. Crocree, paperhanger; Willard E. Cook, clerk; J. D. Ward, race horse man of Toledo.

Among the missing who are believed to be in the ruins are: R. A. Fricke of Norwood; Joseph Worthner, barkeeper; Louis Fey, wife and baby; also two servant girls in the families of Fey and Drach.

Jack McCarthy, Peter Burns and Charles Filly were taken out alive, but will probably die.

Herman Nolte, Jr., was standing by a barbershop pole in adjoining building when struck by some debris and suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

Several are still alive in the ruins. One of the barkeepers, who was not on duty at the time and escaped, lived in one of the upper flats, and was with grief because he knew that his wife and four children were in the ruins. One of his children was recovered dead soon after the explosion.

Mr. John J. James of the Salt Lake City Herald was just leaving the Gibson House at the time of the explosion, and with his heavy grip was blown into the doorway of an adjoining store. He was knocked senseless, but afterward recovered sufficiently to take the train for St. Louis on his way west.

There were many that suffered slight injuries who were taken to their homes and whose names cannot be learned. Some of those who were in the saloons were thrown out on the sidewalk and suffered slight injuries. Among them Mr. Healy of the Alms hotel. He was in Fey's place and reports about 18 or 20 in that resort when the building went down.

Mr. Drach being among the victims it is probable that it will never be known how the explosion came about. He had just been down in the basement experimenting with the gasoline engine and had poured a barrel of gasoline into the tank, which had caused the explosion. He had just secured a new engine from Lafayette, Ind., intending to start it for motive power in furnishing incandescent light.

BOUTELLE CALLED TO ORDER.

He Criticized Senators' Action on the Naval Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The first skirmish over the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill reducing the number of battleships provided for in that bill from four to two, occurred in the house when Mr. Boutelle, chairman of the naval committee, moved to non-concur in all the senate amendments and request a conference of the senate. Mr. Boutelle undertook to chastise some of the senators for their inconsistency. He referred to the war scares of the past winter and the bellicose resolutions introduced in the senate and then sarcastically contrasted the war talk of some of the senators with their votes to reduce the number of battleships provided for in the bill.

Mr. (Quigg (Rep., N. Y.) called Mr. Boutelle to order for criticizing members of the upper house, and was sustained by the chair after some very lively sparring. Mr. Boutelle, however, accomplished all he had intended despite the chair's ruling. Subsequently Mr. Sayers (Tex.) moved to concur in the senate amendment reducing the number of battleships, but by consent the motion went over for action until today, when it is likely that the whole question of large appropriations at this time for strengthening the navy will be reopened.

DO SOMETHING FOR CUBA.

This the Import of a Resolution in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Representative Woodman (Ill.) introduced a resolution providing that the house of representatives directly request the president to make immediate proclamation that a condition of war in Cuba is recognized, and that it is the purpose of this government to preserve a position of neutrality, and that the United States will look with especial disfavor on the continuance of any methods of warfare not recognized in the rules of war as practiced by the leading nations of the civilized world.

In the preamble it is recited that the executive department of the government has not seen fit to act on the almost universal recommendation of the people as expressed by both branches of congress and that the situation in that most unhappy island is becoming a stench in the nostrils of christendom; the murders, the outrages, the barbarities and horrors perpetrated by the Spanish in Cuba are so notorious that civilization itself stands appalled.

THE SENATE SESSION.

Peffer's Bond Inquiry Resolution Forced to the Front.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—When the intended action to consider the river and harbor bill was attempted in the senate it was antagonized by a motion by Mr. Turpie (Dem., Ind.) to consider the Dupont election case. Senator Mitchell, with considerable display of feeling, sought to prevent this course, but by an aye and nay vote, resulting 32 to 31, the senate decided to take up the Dupont case. Later an agreement was effected to postpone the matter until the river and harbor bill was passed, the final vote in the election case to be taken two days after consideration was begun.

Mr. Peffer refused to further delay the bond investigation resolution and his motion to proceed with the resolution was upheld by 39 to 28, thus displacing the river and harbor bill. Mr. Hill thereupon took the floor and spoke until adjournment.

President Wants Welberg Tried.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In the supreme court the solicitor general moved to advance for hearing this term the case of Welberg vs. the United States, convicted of aiding a military expedition in aid of Cuba in violation of the neutrality laws, stating that the expedition of the case was desired by the president and the secretary of state. The motion was resisted, and the case went over until today.

WOULD CLEAR JACKSON

If There Were Not Suspicious Trimmings to the Story.

A BRAKEMAN'S UNLIKELY TALE.

He Says He and a Woman and a Doctor Hauled Pearl Jackson's Dead Body From Cincinnati to Where It Was Found—A Witness Coached.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 5.—Sensational evidence has been given in Scott Jackson's trial by William R. Trusty of Urbana, Ills. He was a brakeman on the Southern railroad within six years of the murder of George Jackson Baker, alias Emma Evans, at 10 o'clock on the night of the murder. They were joined by an old doctor who was a friend of the woman. Through these parties Trusty was employed to drive a cab. They stopped at a house on George street, in the tenderloin district, where the doctor carried the body of a woman from the house into the cab. Then they drove across the Newport bridge and stopped near the place where Pearl Bryan's body was found the next morning. The old man carried the body across the fence and afterward they drove back to Cincinnati. Trusty testified that they drove a gray horse and a rig similar to the one that George Jackson described. The old doctor, whose name trusty never learned, gave him $10 for the job. Trusty afterward returned to his home in Urbana, Ills., where he told the story about this midnight drive to his father.

The witness was kept under a furious cross-examination. He said his father was a third cousin to John Seward, or Sward, as he sometimes spells his name, who is a detective of Somerset, Ky., employed by the defense. He identified a photograph of John Seward as the same person as an engraving on the outside of a pamphlet in the hands of the prosecution, which pamphlet was entitled "The confession of John Sward of his complicity in a murder in Casey county, Ky." It also developed in the testimony of this witness that John Seward served one term in the Kentucky penitentiary. Furthermore, it transpired that John Seward had visited Urbana, Ill., in February and had talked with witness, William R. Trusty, and his father, William Trusty, about this murder.

Furthermore, letters were shown from William Trusty, Sr., to Mr. A. S. Bryan and to Bryan's attorney, Mr. Hays, in February, offering for a sure consideration to thwart the defense in its purpose to procure evidence to prove Pearl Bryan died in Cincinnati and was taken to Kentucky and beheaded.

It was also shown that John Seward had coached the witness George Dayton, who made a complete flunk on the stand. They produced written directions prepared by Seward and given to Dayton to testify to. He failed to deliver the goods when the time came. The prosecution anticipated this testimony of witnesses produced by Seward and have counteracting witnesses here.

A White Girl Murdered.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Elsie Kreglo, a white girl 16 years old, has been murdered in a ravine near the National Zoological park. The body was found in a small creek about 100 yards from the girl's home, with her throat cut. Cries for help were heard by the Kreglo family and a sister and a colored boy ran to her. She had made a hard fight for her honor. A negro was seen running from the spot.

THE WOMEN WITHDREW

Nevertheless M. E. Conference Will Likely Seat Them.

INCREASE OF BISHOPS EXPECTED.

Bishop Foss Says He and the Other Bishops Think Three or More Should Be Elected—Resolutions Favoring International Arbitration Adopted.

CLEVELAND, May 5.—The supporters of the women delegate cause claim that they have certainly won the victory and that the final vote will seat the women. Their opponents, however, while they conceded that the other side has had a large majority of the delegates from the start, declare their belief that the tide was turned by the speeches in the conference. The debate was resumed in the conference this morning at 10 o'clock.

The women sent in a statement retiring in the interest of harmony until the question is settled. The reports of the majority and minority were then made and debated.

the advisability of having more bishops and that which will make a recommendation on the proposition to mitigate the severity of the rule governing the itinerancy of ministers.

Bishop Foss said in an interview: "I believe that more of the bishops than at present should be increased by three or four. The minority, however, is very strong. My idea, if more bishops are chosen, is not to make bishops of India, China, Africa, etc., but to have them bishops in a general sense, so that we can devote what time is necessary to this country and certain of us go to foreign land for what time is needed to be devoted there."

Bishop Morrill of Chicago presided at the session and the first hymn was announced by Rev. Dr. Hurlbut of the Sunday School union. A fervent prayer was offered by Dr. Hurlbut.

The resolutions pictured at length the horrors of war, and announced that the English-speaking countries of the world had too much in common to risk the lives and treasures of their people in a bloody conflict. The resolutions further reported in favor of an arbitration commission.

HOLMES' DAY OF DEATH NEAR.

He Seems Resigned and Suicide Is Not Expected.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—H. H. Holmes, the convicted murderer, has now less than two days to live. Sheriff Clement says the execution will occur about 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. The sheriff asserts that there will be no sensational scene on the gallows. If Holmes has anything to say it must be said from his cell, before the march to the scaffold.

About 50 persons, including officials and newspaper men, will witness the hanging, although thousands are straining every nerve to be present, and as high as $300 has been offered for a single ticket.

The prophecy that Holmes would cheat the gallows by committing suicide has no promise of fulfillment. Strict watch is kept upon him, but he seems docile and resigned. Whether or not his apparent contrition is genuine and whether he will die a convert to the Roman Catholic faith is largely a matter of conjecture. Father Dailey, his spiritual advisor, believes the contrition is genuine. The priest will visit Holmes every day, and will administer the last rites of the Catholic church shortly before the hanging. On Thursday morning mass will also be said for him in the Church of the Annunciation.

RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP FOR SPAIN.

Raising of Their Missions to Embassies Considered Very Significant.

MADRID, May 5.—The ambassador from Russia, who has arrived here to put into effect the purpose to mutually convert the Spanish and Russian legations into embassies, has presented his credentials to the queen regent. He said that the czar's intention is to devote himself with zeal to further and improve the mutual friendly relations between Spain and Russia. The queen regent replied, dwelling upon her satisfaction at the elevation of the Russian mission to an embassy as a proof of the czar's sympathy.

This step on the part of the two governments is regarded as very significant. The relations between the two are known to be most intimate and the attitude of the Russian press in declaring that America was at fault in interfering in the Cuban affairs, which according to Russian newspapers, only concerns Spain, has already been much remarked.

At all of the barns mobs numbering from 5,000 to 5,000 were gathered. At each the non-union men who took the strikers' places were assaulted. The car inspectors were rescued by the police from a large mob.

All the men employed in the repair shops of the street railway and electricians went out this morning.

THE WOMEN WITHDREW

Nevertheless M. E. Conference Will Likely Seat Them.

INCREASE OF BISHOPS EXPECTED.

Bishop Foss Says He and the Other Bishops Think Three or More Should Be Elected—Resolutions Favoring International Arbitration Adopted.

CLEVELAND, May 5.—The supporters of the women delegate cause claim that they have certainly won the victory and that the final vote will seat the women. Their opponents, however, while they conceded that the other side had had a large majority of the delegates from the start, declare their belief that the tide was turned by the speeches in the conference. The debate was resumed in the conference this morning at 10 o'clock.

The women sent in a statement retelling in the interest of harmony until the question is settled. The reports of the majority and minority were then made and debated.

The 13 standing committees and the special committee on the Epworth League have organized permanently and began work today. Among them are the committee which will consider

Bishop Foss said in an interview: "I believe that more of the bishops than not think our number should be increased by three or four. The minority, however, is very strong. My idea, if more bishops are chosen, is not to make bishops of India, China, Africa, etc., but to have them bishops in a general sense, so that we can devote what time is necessary to this country and certain of us go to foreign land for what time is needed to be devoted there."

Bishop Morrill of Chicago presided at the session and the first hymn was announced by Rev. Dr. Hurlbut. A fervent prayer was offered by Dr. Hurlbut.

Rev. H. A. Buchtel of Indiana desired the Episcopal address read in every pulpit. The conference adopted a resolution to send a copy to each pulpit. Dr. Mueller of Cleveland presented a resolution favoring arbitration for all English-speaking countries, which was adopted and a copy ordered sent to the president of the United States.

The resolutions pictured at length the horrors of war, and announced that the English-speaking countries of the world had too much in common to risk the lives and treasures of their people in a bloody conflict. The resolutions further reported in favor of an arbitration commission.

Rev. A. F. Kolaszewski, pastor of the Independent Polish Catholic Church of the Immaculate Heart of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and also the head of the Independent Polish movement in the United States, has approached Chaplain McCabe with a proposition to turn his church, with its congregation, to the Methodist denomination.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The national electrical exposition, under the auspices of the National Electric Light association, opened at the Grand Central palace last night. It was opened by the pressing of a golden key by Governor Morton, which sent out an electric current that discharged cannon in San Francisco, New Orleans, St. Paul, Augusta, London, England, and New York.

New Railroad Chartered.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 5.—The secretary of state has issued a charter to the Little Kanawha Railroad company for a railroad from Parkersburg up the Little Kanawha valley to Gilmer county and beyond. The incorporators are all of this city. Organization will be effected and the road built, they claim, before the end of this year.

A Mammoth Oil Well.

WHEELING, May 5.—A report from the well of the Victor Oil company, on the Stealy farm in Tyler county, this state, says that it is producing 120 barrels an hour, or 2,800 barrels a day. If this pace is maintained it will be the largest producing Big Injun well ever drilled in America.

HOLMES' DAY OF DEATH NEAR.

He Seems Resigned and Suicide Is Not Expected.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—H. H. Holmes, the convicted murderer, has now less than two days to live. Sheriff Clement says the execution will occur about 10 o'clock on Thursday morning. The sheriff asserts that there will be no sensational scene on the gallows. If Holmes has anything to say it must be said from his cell, before the march to the scaffold.

About 50 persons, including officials and newspaper men, will witness the hanging, although thousands are straining every nerve to be present, and as high as $300 has been offered for a single ticket.

The prophecy that Holmes would cheat the gallows by committing suicide has no promise of fulfillment. Strict watch is kept upon him, but he seems docile and resigned. Whether or not his apparent contrition is genuine and whether he will die a convert to the Roman Catholic faith is largely a matter of conjecture. Father Dailey, his spiritual advisor, believes the contrition is genuine. The priest will visit Holmes every day, and will administer the last rites of the Catholic church shortly before the hanging. On Thursday morning mass will also be said for him in the Church of the Annunciation.

RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP FOR SPAIN.

Raising of Their Missions to Embassies Considered Very Significant.

MADRID, May 5.—The ambassador from Russia, who has arrived here to put into effect the purpose to mutually convert the Spanish and Russian legations into embassies, has presented his credentials to the queen regent. He said that the czar's intention is to devote himself with zeal to further and improve the mutual friendly relations between Spain and Russia. The queen regent replied, dwelling upon her satisfaction at the elevation of the Russian mission to an embassy as a proof of the czar's sympathy.

This step on the part of the two governments is regarded as very significant. The relations between the two are known to be most intimate and the attitude of the Russian press in declaring that America was at fault in interfering in the Cuban affairs, which according to Russian newspapers, only concerns Spain, has already been much remarked.

NOT INTERFERING IN POLITICS.

A Decision Made by the West Virginia Court of Appeals.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 5.—The supreme court of appeals of this state has handed down its opinion in the mandamus case of J. W. Goshorn against the county Republican executive committee of Kanawha county, which Goshorn sought to compel that committee to place his name as a candidate for county clerk on the primary election ticket to be voted on the 6th of June.

The court holds "that there is no law authorizing the court at this stage to control by mandamus political parties in the management and conduct of their affairs."

The strongest kind of McKinley resolutions will be passed.

MILWAUKEE, May 5.—The street railway strike has assumed a serious aspect. Every car barn in the city has been surrounded by a large crowd which rained the buildings and in some instances drove off the police who had been detailed to guard the barns. The mobs were made up of sympathizers.

The largest mobs were at the Third and Burleigh barns, where the patrol wagon was twice called out and where two arrests, the first of the strike, were made.

At all of the barns mobs numbering from 5,000 to 5,500 were gathered. At each the non-union men who took the strikers' places were assaulted. The car inspectors were rescued by the police from a large mob.

All the men employed in the repair shops of the street railway and electricians went out this morning.

ANOTHER AMERICAN HELD.

He Was One of the Unfortunate Competitor Filibusters.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Representative Linney of North Carolina this morning received the following telegram from Cyrus W. Watson, a well-known lawyer of Winston, N. C.:

Mr. Mathis was once the editor of the Winston Sentinel and is an influential man in his state.

Mr. Linney does not know whether Mr. Mathis was on the competitor as a newspaper man or a soldier, but supposes he was on his way to fight for the Cubans.

ARE COMPLAINING.

Third Street Residents Think They Should Have a Light.

Residents in the vicinity of city hall have again begun to clamor for an electric light at the corner of Market and Third streets. They say that it is a shame that a city the size of this should leave a corner as important as without a light from one year's end to another. In a conversation with one of the property holders of that neighborhood last night, he said: "They talk about needing lights out in the suburban districts. I'd just like to have some of those people try to pass this corner on a dark night and see if they wouldn't run into a whole lot of bill boards. It used to be that the gas light on the corner was lit the most of the time, but for some unaccountable reason it is never used any more, and the corner is left in absolute darkness. TO THE GREAT BEYOND.

Mrs. William Mayer Died at an Early Hour Today.

Mrs. William Mayer died this morning at 4 o'clock, at her home, 183 Bank street, McKinnon's addition, aged 42 years. Deceased has been ill for the past three months with that dread disease, consumption, but bore her suffering with a firm Christian fortitude, and the many friends that are left to mourn her loss have the consolation of knowing that she has passed to a better world beyond. A husband and child are left, who have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. Deceased was born in Santiago, Rottingham, England, and has a brother and sister in the old country, who will be pained to hear of her death. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon, from the St. Stephen's church, of which she was an earnest, consistent member. The services will be conducted by Reverend O'Meara and the remains will be interred in Riverview cemetery.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1,235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

THE CROPS

Are Farther Advanced Than They Have Been for Years.

"The crops are farther advanced at the present time than they have been for years," said a prominent farmer in conversation with a reporter yesterday, "and should the warm weather continue for one week longer, they will be farther along than I have ever known them to be at the same period of the year. In my fifty years' experience as a farmer in this neighborhood. Yes, there will be one of the largest fruit crops the county has ever known if nothing happens, as the trees are as full of blossoms as they can possibly be, and many trees that have shown no signs of bearing fruit for years, are this year covered with bloom. Taken altogether, I predict that the farmers will have a very successful season."

A New Departure.

The Pennsylvania lines have introduced uniformed Parcel Porters at Jersey City to look after the comfort of all arriving and departing passengers. Their services will be gratis, and they will accompany passengers (if desired) between Cortlandt street ferry, New York City, and the American Line pier, Sixth avenue elevated railroad, and the Central railroad of New Jersey station; also between Desbrosses street ferry, New York City, and the Ninth avenue elevated railroad. They will be in attendance from 6 a. m. until midnight every day, and when accompanying passengers, they will carry parcels and handle baggage.

Stopped the Sale.

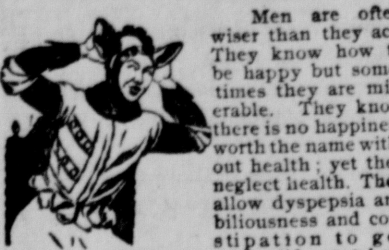

Sometime ago judgment was given Theodore Bradshaw against Augustus Armstrong for $130, an amount due for rent and on a note. Constable Lyons took possession of his household goods, and was selling them at public sale yesterday afternoon, when J. A. McDonald appeared on the scene and stopped the sale, as he held a chattel mortgage on them. As the constable had nearly everything sold when McDonald arrived the sale was finished, and everything was closed out except the organ.

Sued This Morning.

The NEWS REVIEW entered suit this morning against A. R. Gould for $6250. The case will be heard by Squire Manley on Friday morning at 7 o'clock.

Men are often wiser than they are credited to be. They know how to be happy but sometimes they are miserable. They know there is no happiness worth the name without health; yet they neglect health. They allow dyspepsia and biliousness and constipation to get a hold on them and make life wretched.

Those three complaints usually come together. Constipation affects the stomach and liver. That brings on bilious attacks and indigestion, headaches, nausea, dizziness, queer sensations of weakness and palpitation. Your nerves are unstrung, your system is sluggish. You lose ambition. The fact is your whole constitution is being slowly undermined. What you need is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They cure constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness in the only sure, permanent way. There is nothing violent or irritating about them, they work mildly though quickly. They tone and strengthen the bowels to carry on their functions naturally. They gently stimulate the flow of bile from the liver and the digestive juices of the stomach. You don't become a slave to their use as with other pills. They make you regular and then you can leave them. That is the difference between Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and the something "just as good," which a sharp druggist tries to substitute. Don't let him do so with you.

If you want to keep your health and strength without consulting the doctor so often, the best thing you can do is to write to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of Dr. Pierce's great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." Send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It is a large book of 1000 pages, with over 300 illustrations. It is the same book of which 60,000 copies were sold at $1.50 each. The only difference is in the binding, which in the free edition is of strong manilla paper.

There is no other such complete family doctor book in the English language. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Send now before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending one. The above generous offer is limited to 500,000 copies.

TO SET CURBING.

Street Committee Will Talk Over the Improvement of Eighth Street.

At the next meeting of the street committee the question of improving Eighth street will be discussed. About nine years ago an ordinance was passed, ordering sidewalks to be laid on the upper side of this street, from Sixth street to the intersection of Lisbon and Jethro streets, but only a few residents complied with the action of council. The last airing the matter had was the introduction of a resolution to pave the street from the Horn switch to the West End school house, but no further action has been taken. It is the intention of the street committee to have the street graded and curbing set, and will act at their next meeting.

VERY MUCH JAGGED.

A Man Found Dead Drunk on Market Street Last Night.

William Quinn was found dead drunk on West Market street last night by Officer Whan, and was the first violator to be permitted to ride in the patrol in his new spring dress. This morning "Hamlet" Bourne, a companion of Quinn's, called at the city hall and urged the mayor to keep Quinn in confinement lest he be unable to withstand the many temptations that beset his path. Bourne obtained the Shakespearian prefix to his name because of his ability to recite passages from the immortal playwright.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison county, Mo., says: "For whooping cough, Chamberlain's Cough remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Chased by an Italian.

A young lad was seen filling his pockets with oranges at the Italian's fruit store in the Diamond last evening. The man from the sunny clime immediately gave chase and the boy, to escape being caught, dropped a number of oranges from his pockets, and while the Italian was gathering them up succeeded in eluding him.

"Whose Game Was It?"

When two men are hunting together, either for large game or small, there is frequently considerable difficulty in determining to which one the dead game belongs, especially when the shots are fired simultaneously or when shot or bullets of the same size are used by both hunters. Dr. J. W. Hall, in Recreation, discusses at considerable length the question, "Whose Game Was It?"

When two persons standing side by side shoot with shot of the same size at a bird, the question is practically unanswerable, though if both hit the bird the number of shot in the game would, of course, have to be considered. Courtesy gives the doubtful game to the one whose bag is lightest.

An experienced hunter can usually tell when he presses the trigger whether it is a killing shot or not, and when two such men shoot together there is rarely any difficulty, as each knows whether he held on or not and does not hesitate to say so if he feels that he missed.

When hunting with a man who claims everything, it is best to quit. Some men, even if their second shell misses fire, will contend that they killed two birds rods apart. They can make marvelous shots around corners, over hills and through trees, and they quite spoil an honest man's sport.

Creation of Peers.

The creation of a peer is now effected by letters patent, addressed to the new lord of parliament, which are accompanied by a writ of summons to the house of lords. Sir William Anson gives the following account of the proper steps to be taken: The prime minister informs the home secretary of the intention of the crown. The home office thereupon instructs the crown office in chancery to prepare a warrant for the sign manual. This warrant, when prepared, is submitted by the home secretary to the queen, and having been countersigned by him it is returned to the crown office for the preparation of the letters patent and the affixing thereto of the great seal, and the letters patent and writ are then sent to the newly created peer. On the introduction to the house the new peer presents his patent to the lord chancellor, and this and also his writ of summons are read and entered upon the journals of the house. They form the "matter of records," in which, as the lords revolved in 1680, the title to a peerage must originate.—Strand Magazine.

Decided by Jury.

It is not uncommon for an English judge to try to raise a laugh—and strange to say he usually succeeds—by affecting an infantile ignorance of all things but purely judicial matters. Sir Henry Hawkins not long ago asked in court, "What is hay?"

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says that in a recent libel suit a strange affectation of judicial ignorance was evinced by Lord Russell. Sir Edward Clarke read, from a book of the plaintiff's, a description of Chopin's "umber shaded head."

"What shade?" asked Lord Russell.

"Umber," replied Sir Edward.

"Yes, but what is that?" persisted the chief justice.

At this point the feelings of the jury were too much for them. With a unanimity reminiscent of the "Pirates of Penzance," they chanted in expostulatory chorus, "Brown, my lord, brown," and the trial went on.

Thought It Was Mad.

A small dog belonging to George Viney was scalded yesterday afternoon and came through the Diamond snapping viciously. The employees of one of the stores in that vicinity thought it had gone mad and hastily closed the doors.

A Warm Friend.

Foley's Colic and Diarrhoea cure is very hot, but when diluted it is a warm friend indeed to those suffering from bowel complaints. It never fails Twenty-five and 50 cents.

The Circus.

It is the conclusion of the New York press that the combination of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' menageries, circuses, and hippodromes "will have a most tremendous influence upon every other show in the country."

and the remains will be interred in Riverview cemetery.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1,235 Harrison street, Kansas City.
He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THE CROPS

Are Farther Advanced Than They Have Been for Years.

"The crops are farther advanced at the present time than they have been for years," said a prominent farmer in conversation with a reporter yesterday, "and should the warm weather continue for one week longer, they will be farther along than I have ever known them to be at the same period of the year. In my fifty years' experience as a farmer in this neighborhood, Yes, there will be one of the largest fruit crops the county has ever known if nothing happens, as the trees are as full of blossoms as they can possibly be, and many trees that have shown no signs of bearing fruit for years, are this year covered with bloom. Taken altogether, I predict that the farmers will have a very successful season."

A New Departure.

The Pennsylvania lines have introduced uniformed Parcel Porters at Jersey City to look after the comfort of all arriving and departing passengers. Their services will be gratis, and they will accompany passengers (if desired) between Cortlandt street ferry, New York City, and the American Line pier, Sixth avenue elevated railroad, and the Central railroad of New Jersey station; also between Desbrosses street ferry, New York City, and the Ninth avenue elevated railroad. They will be in attendance from 6 a. m. until midnight every day, and when accompanying passengers will carry parcels and handle baggage.

Stopped the Sale.

Sometime ago judgment was given Theodore Bradshaw against Augustus Armstrong for $130, an amount due for rent and on a note. Constable Lyons took possession of his household goods, and was selling them at public sale yesterday afternoon, when J. A. McDonald appeared on the scene and stopped the sale, as he held a chattel mortgage on them. As the constable had nearly everything sold when McDonald arrived the sale was finished, and everything was closed out except the organ.

Sued This Morning.

The NEWS REVIEW entered suit this morning against A. R. Gould for $62.50. The case will be heard by Squire Manley on Friday morning at 7 o'clock.

Men are often wiser than they act. They know how to be happy but sometimes they are miserable. They know there is no happiness in the name
without health; yet
they neglect health,
they allow dyspepsia and biliousness and constipation to get a hold on them and make life wretched.
These three complaints usually come together. Constipation affects the stomach and liver. That brings on bilious attacks and indigestion, headache, nausea, dizziness, queer sensations of weakness and palpitation. Your nerves are unstrung, your system is sluggish. You lose ambition. The fact is your whole constitution is being slowly undermined.
What you need is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They cure constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness in the only sure, permanent way. There is nothing violent or irritating about them, they work mildly though quickly. They tone and strengthen the bowels to carry on their functions naturally. They gently stimulate the flow of bile from the liver and the digestive juices of the stomach. You don't become a slave to their action. They make you regular and then you can leave them. That is the difference between Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and the something "just as good,"
which a sharp druggist tries to substitute.
Don't let him do so with you.

If you want to keep your health and strength without consulting the doctor so often, the best thing you can do is to write to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of Dr. Pierce's great book, "The People's Common Sense
Medical Adviser." Send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. It is a large book of 1008 pages, with over 300 illustrations.
It is the same as the edition of 1890, copies were sold at $1.00 each. The only difference is in the binding, which in the free edition is of strong manilla paper.

There is no other such complete family doctor book in the English language. It is a veritable library, complete in one volume. Send now before all are given away. They are going off rapidly, therefore, do not delay sending in-mediately if in want of one. The above generous offer is limited to 500,000 copies.

TO SET CURBING.

Street Committee Will Talk Over the Improvement of Eighth Street.

At the next meeting of the street committee the question of improving Eighth street will be discussed. About nine years ago an ordinance was passed, ordering sidewalks to be laid on the upper side of this street, from Sixth street to the intersection of Lisbon and Jethro streets, but only a few residents complied with the action of council. The last airing the matter had was the introduction of a resolution to pave the street from the Horn switch to the West End school house, but no further action has been taken.
It is the intention of the street committee to have the street graded and curbing set, and will act at their next meeting.

VERY MUCH JAGGED.

A Man Found Dead Drunk on Market Street Last Night.

William Quinn was found dead drunk on West Market street last night by Officer Whan, and was the first violator to be permitted to ride in the patrol in his new spring dress.
This morning "Hamlet" Bourne, a companion of Quinn's, called at the city hall and urged the mayor to keep Quinn in confinement lest he be unable to withstand the many temptations that beset his path. Bourne obtained the Shakspearean prefix to his name because of his ability to recite passages from the immortal playwright.

Dr. S. F. Scott, Blue Ridge, Harrison county, Mo., says: "For whooping cough, Chamberlain's Cough remedy is excellent." By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious.

Chased by an Italian.

A young lad was seen filling his pockets with oranges at the Italian's fruit store in the Diamond last evening. The man from the sunny clime immediately gave chase and the boy, to escape being caught, dropped a number of oranges from his pockets, and while the Italian was gathering them up succeeded in eluding him.

"Whose Game Was It?"

When two men are hunting together, either for large game or small, there is frequently considerable difficulty in determining to which one the dead game belongs, especially when the shots are fired simultaneously or when shot or bullets of the same size are used by both hunters. Dr. J. W. Hall, in Recreation, discusses at considerable length the question, "Whose Game Was It?"

When two persons standing side by side shoot with shot of the same size at a bird, the question is practically unanswerable, though if both hit the bird the number of shot in the game would, of course, have to be considered. Courtesy gives the doubtful game to the one whose bag is lightest.

An experienced hunter can usually tell when he presses the trigger whenever it is a killing shot or not, and when two such men shoot together there is rarely any difficulty, as each knows whether he held on or not and does not hesitate to say so if he feels that he missed.

When hunting with a man who claims everything, it is best to quit. Some men, even if their second shell misses fire, will contend that they killed two birds rods apart. They can make marvelous shots around corners, over hilltops and through trees, and they quite spoil an honest man's sport.

Creation of Peers.

The creation of a peer is now effected by letters patent, addressed to the new lord of parliament, which are accompanied by a writ of summons to the house of lords. Sir William Anson gives the following account of the proper steps to be taken: The prime minister informs the home secretary of the intention of the crown. The home office thereupon instructs the crown office in chancery to prepare a warrant for the sign manual. This warrant, when prepared, is submitted by the home secretary to the queen, and having been countersigned by him it is returned to the crown office for the preparation of the letters patent and the affixing thereof the great seal, and the letters patent and writ are then sent to the newly created peer. On the introduction to the house the new peer presents his patent to the lord chancellor, and this and also his writ of summons are read and entered upon the journals of the house.
They form the "matter of records," in which, as the lords revolved in 1680, the title to a peerage must originate.—

Decided by Jury.

It is not uncommon for an English judge to try to raise a laugh—and strange to say he usually succeeds—by affecting an infantile ignorance of all things but purely judicial matters. Sir Henry Hawkins not long ago asked in court, "What is hay?"

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says that in a recent libel suit a strange affectation of judicial ignorance was evinced by Lord Russell. Sir Edward Clarke read, from a book of the plaintiff's, a description of Chopin's
"amber shaded head."
"What shade?" asked Lord Russell.
"Umber," replied Sir Edward.
"Yes, but what is that?" persisted the chief justice.

At this point the feelings of the jury were too much for them. With a unanimity reminiscent of the "Pirates of Penzance," they chanted in expostula-tory chorus, "Brown, my lord, brown," and the trial went on.

Thought It Was Mad.

A small dog belonging to George Viney was scalded yesterday afternoon and came through the Diamond snapping viciously. The employees of one of the stores in that vicinity thought it had gone mad and hastily closed the doors.

A method by which to end all unnatural trains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, dependency, etc.

To enhance a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.
To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.
Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men

soon after wrote:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

And another thus:
"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."
